ABOUT THE SUMMIT

We are pleased to invite you, our esteemed industry representatives, to the Battery Technologies Summit, which will be organized in a summit format for the first time this year.

Our Summit aims to bring together the pioneers of the industry with innovative minds and to convey the latest technological developments and international perspectives to you. Our Board of Directors and Summit Working Group are working with a focus on excellence to make this event unique. With detailed presentations from our experienced speakers and forward-thinking approaches from industry leaders, the summit will be an unforgettable experience for attendees.

Our summit will address every aspect of the battery ecosystem, from raw material processes to cell production techniques, from extraordinary battery applications to sustainable waste strategies, from advanced charging systems to comprehensive testing and certification processes.

We look forward to sharing the excitement of shaping the future of the industry with you at the Battery Technologies Summit on November 22-23.

SUMMIT TOPICS

Battery Technologies and the Future

In these sessions, you can learn in detail about the current state of battery technology, recent developments, innovations and potential trends for the near future. Find out which technological advances could affect the capacity, charging time and energy density of batteries.

Battery Management Systems and Applications

The focus will be on battery management systems that are essential to maximize the efficiency, safety and lifetime of batteries. This session will provide a comprehensive overview of how these systems work, why they are important and their role in applications.

Battery Certification and Safety

Battery safety is a major concern for users. In this session, you will have the opportunity to learn about the testing, certification processes and international standards to guarantee the safety of batteries.

Battery Secondary Use and Recycling

End-of-life batteries bring environmental and economic challenges. This session will explore the potential for secondary use of used batteries, recycling methods and the positive impact of these processes on the environment.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Battery Manufacturers : Representatives of companies involved in the design, manufacture and distribution of batteries.

Research and Development (R&D) Professionals : Scientists and engineers working on new battery technologies.

Automobile Manufacturers : The automotive industry is showing great interest in battery technologies, especially with the growing popularity of electric cars.

Energy Storage and Renewable Energy Companies : They need battery technologies to store energy from renewable energy sources such as wind and solar power.

Supply Chain Managers : Companies that supply the materials used in battery production.

Policymakers and Regulators : Government officials working on energy policies and battery safety standards.

Investors : Private equity firms, venture capitalists and other financial institutions considering investments in battery technologies.

Industry Analysts and Consultants : Professionals who analyze market trends, opportunities and challenges.

Consumers and User Groups : Users of battery-powered products such as electric vehicles, mobile devices or home energy storage systems.

Educators and Academics : Representatives from universities, research institutes and technical training organizations.

BİLİŞİM VADİSİ (IT VALLEY)

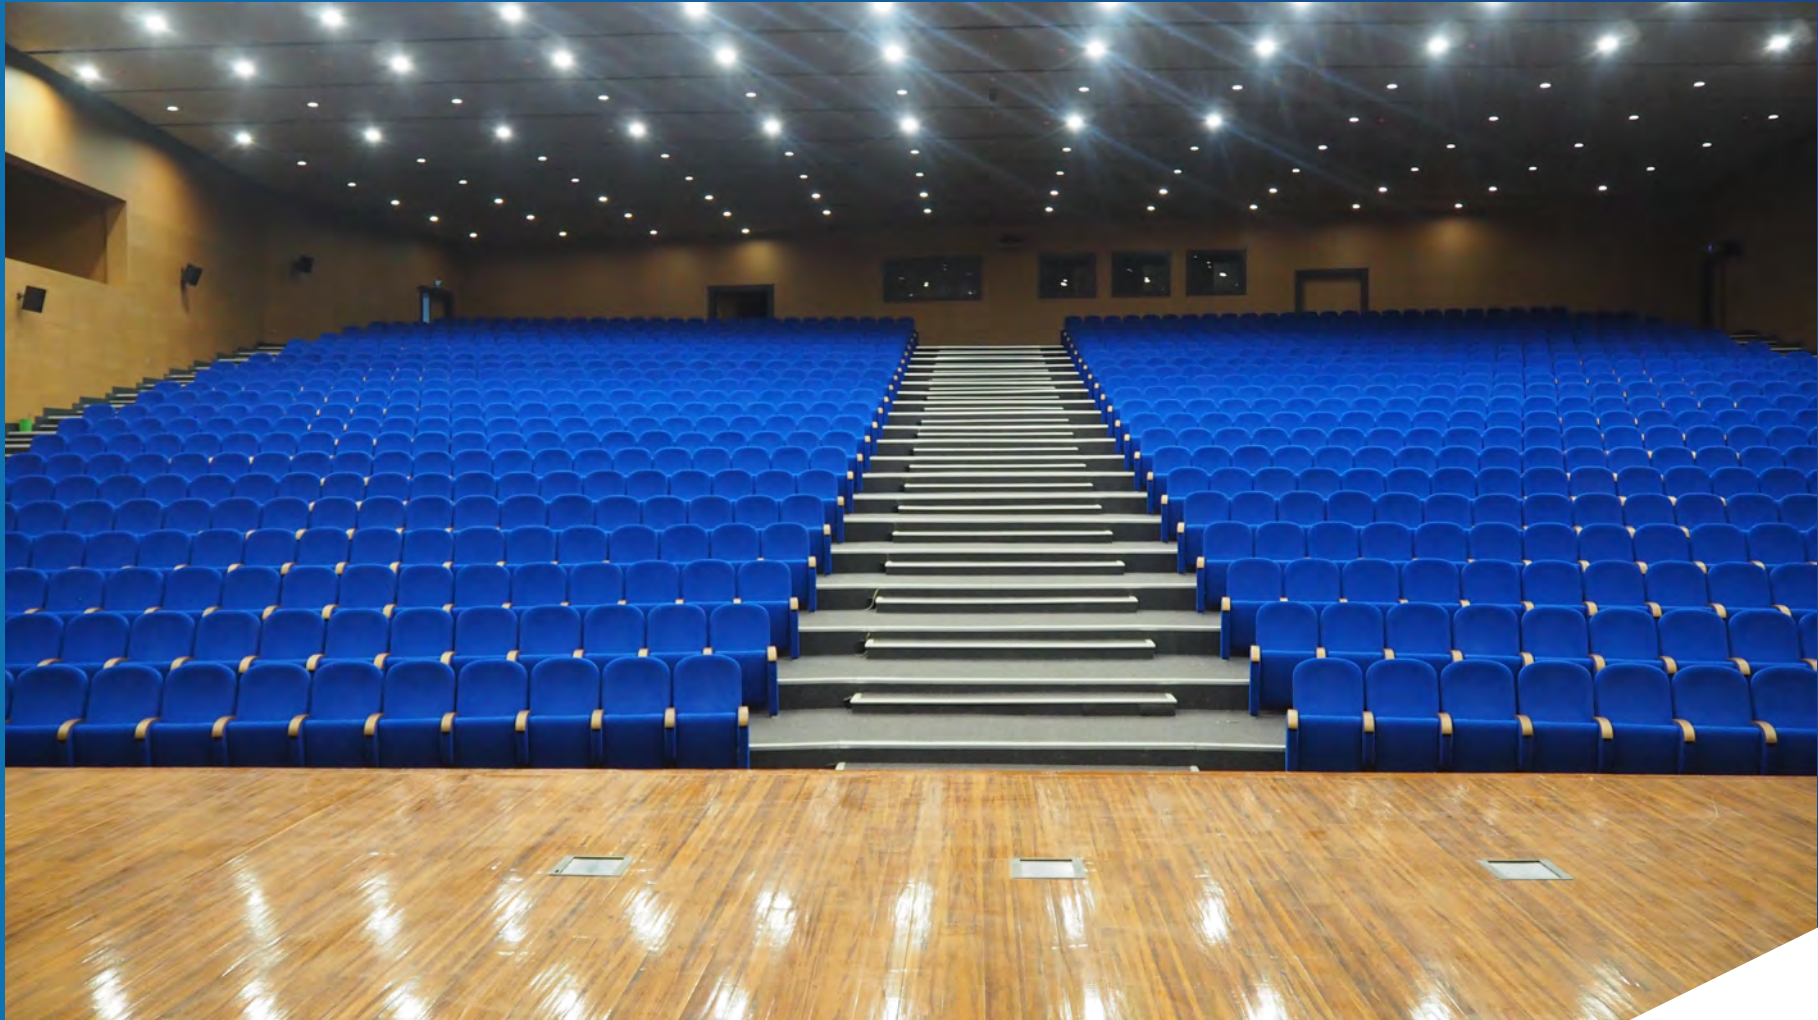

Turkey's leading R&D and innovation center where the heart of technology, mobility and innovation beats.
